Headline:
Sunshine and showers on Wednesday.

Today:
A largely fine and bright start. Sunny spells and scattered, slow-moving showers developing late morning onwards, some heavy by the afternoon. Some parts will stay dry. Mainly light winds and feeling warm in the sunshine between the showers. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Any remaining showers dying out quickly this evening. Cloud thinning before midnight leaving lengthy clear spells which will allow mist and fog patches to form inland. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Thursday:
After a fine bright start to the day with light winds, cloud will increase through the morning as the breeze freshens. Showers developing through the afternoon some heavy or thundery. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Sunny spells and showers each day with a risk of thundery downpours on Friday. Becoming breezier. Temperatures a little below normal. Some parts staying dry Saturday and Sunday.
